Welcome to the 2017 Holiday Housewalk & Market!

We're excited that you're here and grateful for your continued support of the Infant Welfare Society’s mission to raise funds for the crucial work of the Children’s Clinic. Our dedicated staff of the IWS Children’s Clinic provides medical, dental, and behavioral health services to over 3,400 children annually - from all over the Chicagoland area.

It takes a Village, as the saying goes, and that’s never been truer when it comes to pulling off this event. Our sincerest thanks go out to Ray & Lisa Lewis, Andy & Katie Rauh, Michael & Kenna MacKinnon, Don & Karen Rosenwinkel, and Megan & Craig Chesney, who have generously opened their homes to us this year.

Please be sure to support the following businesses who have helped make this event possible.

• Dine & Share restaurants who have agreed to donate 10% of all proceeds from Housewalk & Market participants who use the Dine & Share coupon

• Market vendors who donate 15% of their Market sales back to the Infant Welfare Society

• Our 2017 Sponsors and Advertisers.

To our friends, over 200 Infant Welfare Society member volunteers, thank you for giving your time and talent to organizing and staffing the Holiday Housewalk and Market.

We hope you enjoy touring these five beautiful homes in our community and find gifts for everyone on your list at the Holiday Market. Thanks again for kicking off your holiday season with us this weekend. We wish you and yours a happy and healthy new year.

Cheers,

Sara Blair

Check-in and ticket pick-up for the Holiday Housewalk is at the Nineteenth Century Club during Holiday Market Hours.

Transportation
The homes are located in different neighborhoods so personal transportation is necessary.

‘Twas the Night Before... Opening Night Party
Thursday, November 30
‘Twas the Night Before.... A festive evening of fun, live music, specialty holiday libations and food to kick off the holidays in style with friends, acquaintances, and the community. This is your exclusive opportunity to view first hand and buy the many beautiful and distinctive gift items crafted by local artists. Take advantage of this “head start” to your holiday shopping.

Holiday Market
Friday, December 1 / Saturday, December 2
The Holiday Market is open to the public with FREE ADMITTANCE both days. 15% of all sales are donated from our vendors to the IWS Children’s Clinic, so when you shop you are helping us in our mission to provide healthcare to the underserved children in our communities.

A Few Housewalk Rules
We kindly ask that you please show the following courtesies to our gracious homeowners:

- The Housewalk is open to children ages eight and older.
- The booties provided must be worn in each home. Please wear them over your shoes if the weather is dry. If the weather is wet, please remove your shoes, place them in your bag, and wear your booties. Please remove booties between home visits.
- No smoking; food or beverages may not be carried or discarded in or around any home.
- Please do not take photographs with cameras, phones or other devices.
- Please remove spiked shoes or boots regardless of weather.

Andy & Katie Rauh
612 Keystone, River Forest

Walk into Andy and Katie Rauh’s astonishing Prairie home and visitors are transported not simply to a holiday atmosphere but to a River Forest of bygone times. Although the architect of the linear 100-plus year old home remains unknown, the Rauh home adjoins another designed by E. E. Roberts, which in turn adjoins one by Frank Lloyd Wright. The owners conjecture that a pupil or devotee of one or the other eminent architects had a hand in the design.

This is a home built for an active family of five children ranging in ages from a medical school student to one in her early college years. Despite its whirl of activity, the home has retained its striking architectural features without sacrifice to changing styles. A 15-year-old addition, carefully designed to look as part of the original, features dark cherry kitchen cabinets and trim in the same hue as the dramatic staircase and built-in bench in the entry foyer.

The setting, which includes thematic art glass windows in many rooms, provides a perfect background for the family’s magical Christmas decorations. The living room fireplace mantle is filled with a snow village of buildings emblematic of the family’s life: a Prairie house representing the family home, a hospital signifying Dr. and Mrs. Rauh’s health care professions, a church for the family’s long devotion as parishioners of St. Luke Parish, a school recalling the family members’ enrollment at St. Luke elementary, Trinity and Fenwick high schools. A painting of Buckingham Fountain tops the mantle recalling where Andy proposed to Katie.

Warm memories fill each room of the home. A collection of crêches in the dining room, for example, includes one in ceramic made by Katie’s mother. The kitchen houses mugs, ornaments, books and other collectables that recall Katie’s connection to the beloved and now gone Marshall Field’s where she worked during her school years and where each Christmas season a dear family friend would host her and her 9 siblings for dinner in the Walnut Room. Also in the kitchen sit collections of plates and snowmen hand made by the Rauh children under their grandmother’s direction, and a stunning canoe built by Andy, who enjoys fishing and the outdoors.

The Rauh home is steeped in happy memories that come afresh each holiday season because the house is filled with special reminders of purposeful and well-enjoyed lives.

Craig & Megan Chesney describe the home they built in 2010 as a “modern Victorian.” But despite its appearance, the house is fundamentally different from other Victorians. The open concept of the design is nothing like the smaller enclosed rooms of many Victorian houses. Additionally, the home has solar panels, a geothermal heating and cooling system, as well as a lawn sprinkling system that uses exclusively rainwater collected in a 2,000-gallon tank.

These are just a few of the innovations in the seemingly Victorian house. The home’s architect, Drew Nelson, is a neighbor who understood clearly the family’s desire to build a house that is completely modern and environmentally friendly yet in harmony with its neighborhood.

The Chesney home is elegantly casual, an inviting place for the family’s three school-age daughters to bring friends, and for celebrating holidays with extended family. Installing a freshly cut Michigan tree in the family room launches the holiday season. Each of the Chesney daughters has a collection of ornaments because each year the girls exchange ornaments with their cousins.

Next, under Craig’s direction, comes decoration of the side porch facing on Adams Street. This is where ornaments hang from the ceiling, a profusion of lights announces the festive nature of family activities, and reindeer figures have been known to appear. The family goes all out in decorating this favorite part of the house because, despite its design as a three-season room, heavy blankets, Christmas music and hot cocoa make it a perfect setting for creating and recalling warm memories. When the girls were younger, before glowing fires in the family room, the Chesneys also would read favorite stories such as Annika’s Secret Wish, Polar Express, and The Grinch Who Stole Christmas.

The family’s love of books, art and music is unmistakable throughout the home. In fact an entire room is devoted exclusively to music. The room holds a finely restored upright piano, a ukulele, a guitar, a trombone, numerous music stands and whatever instrument seems to be the passion of the moment!

In fact, passion describes this family’s simultaneous commitment to its traditions in a home built for today and the future.
When terrific things happen, terrific people are behind it.

Ray & Lisa Lewis
600 N. Euclid Avenue, Oak Park

Ray & Lisa Lewis’s grand Arts and Crafts house is home to the family of three plus their two St. Bernards – Bascom and Lambeau – their golden retriever puppy – Langdon – and their cat – Summer Sophia, aka “Kitty.” Whether the Webb family, which hired architect Henry K. Holsman to design their spacious home in 1912, ever envisaged that it would one day house this family and their many beloved pets is an unanswered question. What is clear, though, is that the home provides a wonderful environment for holiday decorating and fun celebrations.

The overall decorating plan involves a fresh textural mix of pine, magnolia and other natural elements in keeping with the family’s relaxed style. By creating an eclectic holiday decor, Ray and Lisa strive to marry the home’s historical character with their preferred casual but elegant style. The lovely outdoor plantings and lights and the diverse streetscape form a gracious setting for holiday parties.

The Lewis family hosts a Christmas Eve on December 23 that brings together extended family and close friends for a sit-down dinner for 24. As guests enter the foyer they see a dramatically decorated archway and a table set with glasses of champagne. They continue through the house from one room to another, beautifully decorated with profusions of evergreen boughs and magnolia.

The dining table is set for the formal dinner party with coordinated magnolia wreaths on the windows and mantle, and these decorative elements accent the living room and kitchen as well to sustain the natural theme. Even as they dine, guests can see the dazzling profusion of soft lights in the yards that surround the home, creating a festive mood both inside and outside.

The evening also includes an annual pageant with a cast of characters and “talents” most suitable for a gathering of holiday fun. The pageant reaches its crescendo with a lively gift exchange and some unexpected events.

Some believe that a ghost of a past family still occupies the house and enjoys playing pranks on family and guests. But if, indeed, this ghost visits, its pranks produce a great deal of fun and fond memories, so it must be a friendly spirit. After all, this beautiful Arts and Crafts home with undertones of Art Nouveau, Victorian and Prairie styles would accept nothing less! The Lewis home is made for beautiful celebrations all year round, but especially at the holidays.

Michael & Kenna MacKinnon
612 North Kenilworth, Oak Park

Would you believe that Michael and Kenna MacKinnon’s home once housed a medical office – but that’s getting ahead of the story! The 1904 home was designed by E. E. Roberts and built by Butendorf Contractors, stalwarts of Oak Park and River Forest homes. The MacKinnons have lived in Oak Park for 15 years, but 7 years ago the fascinating history of this gracious home called out to the couple and their four children, today ranging in age from 16 to 7.

Dr. H.L. Simmons, for whom the house was built, operated his medical practice from his home – not uncommon a century ago and long before more definitive zoning ordinances. His neighbor to the south was Dr. Clarence E. Hemingway, father of Oak Park native son and Nobel and Pulitzer-Prize-winning author Ernest Hemingway. The doctors Simmons and Hemingway are believed to have shared a medical library housed in glass cabinets in the Simmons exam room. Today Dr. Simmon’s waiting room has been repurposed as the Mackinnon’s living room and his exam room is the family dining room.

Enriching the home’s remarkable history, are delightful reminders of the MacKinnon family’s roots and traditions. Their love of nature is evident in the profusion of natural greenery that defines their holiday decorations of trees, wreaths and garland. Michael’s Boston roots are evident in the candle lights at the windows that beckon to family and friends on cold Midwestern winter nights. Kenna’s collections of Santas in the kitchen and nutcrackers in the foyer recall favorite childhood memories.

The scent of baking cookies underscores the family’s Christmas traditions that include Advent calendars and Christmas trees trimmed with ornaments collected over the years in favorite places as reminders of special family experiences. The dining room table is set with Kenna’s grandmother’s red and gold Meito china. The collection of trees that dots the living room mantle and the kid-themed decorations in the family room are hallmarks of the importance of family in this home. Kenna also looks forward to integrating yet more family collections that she has inherited since her parents recently moved from their home of 45 years.

The MacKinnon home is grounded in important local history, but its energy comes from the active family that lives there today and the favorite traditions that lace their holiday celebrations.
The strength to make a difference comes from passionate partners.

Baird is proud to sponsor the OPRF Infant Welfare Society for their commitment to providing quality healthcare for children in need for 100 years.

Don & Karen Rosenwinkel
623 North East Avenue, Oak Park

Don and Karen Rosenwinkel have generously shared their home in other area house walks, but you’ve never seen the 1906 house designed by Vernon Watson, of Talmadge and Watson Architects, as it appears today! Avid collectors of Christmas decorations, the Rosenwinkels are displaying all of their collections, including Santas, nutcrackers and snowmen, for the first time to produce a holiday wonderland! Ranging from Lalique ornaments to mercury glass to hand-made pillows charmingly displayed, the decorations transform this already magnificent home into a decorator’s dream!

The exquisite exterior glitters with silver, gold and lush planters filled with seasonal greens and plants, calling visitors into the meticulously restored home. Objects of stunning beauty resonate with meaning where this tightly knit family includes three adult daughters and the enduring memory of three beloved dogs.

The Rosenwinkels have lived in Oak Park since 1982. They purchased this home in 1994 and fully restored this architecturally significant home to its original beauty, laden with design ideas developed by Don.

The Rosenwinkel’s celebrations begin with a bi-yearly cookie exchange with a longtime friend the Friday before Christmas. Decorating the family tree is...well, a family endeavor with music and eggnog and watching traditional holiday movies non-stop! After the family attends mass on Christmas Eve they come home to open their gifts of Christmas Eve pajamas and relax for the day ahead. Even with three grown daughters Santa can be certain of the plate of cookies that awaits him. Christmas Day it’s stockings first as the family enjoys a European breakfast, then opening one gift at a time while recounting and laughing over stories of their favorite Christmas memories.

Some of those stories include reminiscing about favorite decorations acquired over the years. There is the life-size snowman, the yearly gift from Don to Karen of a Lalique ornament, the Christmas pillows made by the girls, the daughters’ collection of annual ornaments received since birth, and the ones they, like other children, have made by hand to please their parents. For the Rosenwinkels, every item is precious not because of its worldly worth, but because of the memories it holds for this family in a wonderfully historic home celebrating this most joyful season together.

Welcome to the 19th Annual Oak Park River Forest Infant Welfare Society Holiday Housewalk and Market! This event always promises a weekend of beautifully decorated homes, unique artisans, and holiday spirit. The Holiday Housewalk and Market has become a popular community event for everyone involved. Your participation in this event helps us provide the highest quality medical, dental and behavioral health services to children in need from over 50 communities. Last year, through our IWS Children’s Clinic, we provided 3,342 children with 10,286 health care visits. Your support this weekend will aide us in continuing our much needed services.

Happy Holidays to each and every one of you,

Usborne Books
Tina Harle
Fiction and nonfiction books for children of all ages, including award winning titles to stir a child’s imagination
As year one of our second 100 years comes to a close, the Infant Welfare Society has remained true to its mission—providing quality health care for children from their little heads to their big toes - and everything in between.

The Society has worked enthusiastically this year through its Board of Directors, Committees, Task Forces, members and staff to reimagine the future and the environment in which we will continue to serve. This focus has helped us hone our priorities and render an even stronger commitment to our noble cause.

The greatest of these priorities is to care for the whole child, not just immediate health concerns. In addition to pediatric and dental services, our behavioral and mental health and social services and nutrition programs are critical parts of our support for children and their families. Further, the Society is strongly committed to health education and the continual discovery of innovative care for the population served.

That’s why we are committed to delivering “Heartfelt Healthcare.” To this end, we are pleased to announce these inspiring milestones from the past year:

- Constructed two new private dental operatories for patients with special needs
- Began a ground-breaking pilot program to determine the ideal way to screen dental patients for behavioral health needs
- Became a clinical training site for Pediatric Dental residents from the University of Illinois School of Dentistry
- Refreshed the clinic with child-friendly features including a beautiful new Giving Library, a whimsical mural adorning the clinical corridors and new signage
- Established a Pet Therapy program
- Increased our marketing and health education outreach in underserved areas

Throughout all these initiatives, we’ve had the great fortune to receive an abundance of support from our incredibly dedicated, talented and thoughtful members, as well as so many in our community in countless ways.

“Anyone who does anything to help a child is a hero to me.” famed TV personality Mr. (Fred) Rogers

We absolutely agree!

We are a diverse member-driven organization committed to assuring the health and well-being of children. Through our IWS Children’s Clinic we provide the highest quality medical, dental and social services to underserved low-income children from infancy to age 18. Our work is powered by dedicated members and volunteers, a highly competent professional staff, generous donors, engaged partners and enlightened communities who share our view that sustaining the health of our community’s at-risk children is a critical investment in the future.

Join. We invite you to join our group of dedicated members. Passionate people who believe in and support the organization, its mission and its programs, including the IWS Children’s Clinic.

Donate. The Oak Park River Forest Infant Welfare Society’s need for funding is a function of the economics of operating a not-for-profit health clinic. There will always be a gap between what it costs to provide medical, dental and social services to our low-income patients and what the Children’s Clinic receives for providing those services. Our IWS Children’s Clinic served over 3,400 children in over 10,000 visits in 2017.

Volunteer. We are always in need of volunteers to help with fundraising and event organization, but also volunteering of time and talents.

We would love to have you be a part of our group of volunteers.

A SAFETY NET

More than 3,400 kids count on the IWS Children’s Clinic as their health care safety net each year.

The children of our clinic face difficult challenges:

- Poverty
- Food Uncertainty
- Neglect, Physical Abuse, Sexual Abuse & Trauma
- Homelessness and/or Unsanitary living conditions
- Witness to substance abuse
- Witness or subject to gang pressure
- Witness or subject to extreme violence
- Loss of Parent/Family Member

While these challenges are difficult, they are outweighed by the resilience of families. The foundation needed to build up families begins with a most basic need – their health, mind and body.

Your Support of OPRF Infant Welfare Society Makes a Difference!

Last year at the IWS Children’s Clinic:

- Served 2,300 children across 31 schools in our Portable Dental and Health Education program
- Over 3,400 children received health care in more than 10,000 patient visits
- 1,340 kids received medical care in 3,300 visits
- 2,796 kids received dental care in 6,748 visits
- 499 kids received specialized dental care in 870 pediatric dentist visits
- 1,100 social work encounters were provided
- Portable Dentistry visited 31 schools, giving exams to more than 2,300 kids
- 100 children living with obesity participated in a personalized nutrition program
- 6,100 students participated in Education Programs
- 43 students in health professions completed a clinical rotation
YOU can make a difference. You can provide children with the basic building blocks of good health. There are many ways to help by donating:

- Two Flu Shots | $50
- One Preventive Dental Visit | $100
- One Special Needs Preventative Dental Visit | $145
- One Restorative Dental Visit | $150
- One Special Needs Restorative Dental Visit | $185
- Four Behavior Health Screenings | $280
- Four Back to School Physicals | $500
- Six Behavioral Health Interventions | $700
- Health & Nutrition Education Wish List | $1,000
- Medical Program Wish List | $2,500
- Dental Wish List | $3,500
- One Month of Rent for IWS Children’s Clinic | $6,100
- IT Support for Six Months | $12,000
- Behavioral Health Program for One Month | $15,000

Everyone wants to be home for the holidays

Family, friends, food and laughter. Comforting, familiar and happy. The warm, welcoming embrace of the Infant Welfare Society’s Children’s Clinic is a home of a different kind.

We care for children from families that could not find help anywhere else. Children who are living in poverty and have faced difficult circumstances. We provide medical, dental and behavioral services from our cozy building on Lake Street. We even help with nutrition, pet therapy, health education and literacy support.

We call it Heartfelt Healthcare

Make your holidays even more wonderful by helping to make a home at the Clinic for deserving children.

Please give generously this Holiday – from your home to theirs.
