HOLIDAY HOUSEWALK & MARKET
FOR HEALTHY KIDS

2018
Will You Join Us?

We’re on a mission to advance the health and well-being of children in need. When you support the OPRF Infant Welfare Society, you help vulnerable children in our community and surrounding areas access critical healthcare, including pediatric, dental and behavioral health services.

Our Children’s Clinic is an important safety net for 3,500 children each year, and your generosity is key. Your gift of $50 will provide a toddler with two essential vaccines. Or for $150, a young patient with autism can receive specialized preventive dental services.

Make a gift at www.oprfiws.org or call 708-406-8661.
Thank you for joining us! THIS PAGE IS YOUR TICKET, please present it for admission at each Holiday Housewalk home.

Welcome to the 20th Annual Holiday Housewalk & Market!

We are thrilled that you’re here and are so grateful for your continued support of the IWS Children’s Clinic. The dedicated staff of the IWS Children’s Clinic provides a healthcare home to children in need, serving more than 3,500 children annually.

Our sincerest thanks go out to Gigi Hoke, Jane Saedi, David and Stephanie Schrodt, and Caroline and Hugh Smith, who have generously opened their homes to us this year, as well as the Oak Park River Forest Museum, for opening its doors and letting us view a special part of history.

Please be sure to support the following businesses who have helped make this event possible, including:

- Dine & Share restaurants that have agreed to donate 10% of all proceeds from participants who use the Dine & Share coupon;
- Market vendors who donate a portion of their sales back to the Infant Welfare Society of OPRF; and
- Our 2018 Sponsors and In-Kind Donors.

This event would not be possible without the generous time and talent of our friends, more than 200 Infant Welfare Society volunteers. Thank you, from the bottom of our hearts! (If you are interested in becoming a member, please visit the Membership Table at the Market.)

We hope you enjoy touring these five beautiful locations in our community and find gifts for everyone on your list at the Holiday Market. Thanks again for kicking off your holiday season with us this weekend. We wish you and yours a happy and healthy new year.

Cheers,

Holiday Housewalk  |  Home 1
Jane & Kevin Saedi
642 North East Avenue, Oak Park

Step in from the cold and enjoy the sights and scents of Christmas wrapped in holiday greens, candle light and vintage ornaments. This is the experience of family and guests who come to the home of Jane and Kevin Saedi. The 1906 Prairie influenced home built by the Andrews Brothers, is a lovely and comfortable setting for this family of five, especially at holiday time. From the fence to the porch columns, to the tabletops and fireplace mantles throughout the home, greenery provides the backdrop for the Saedi’s beautiful holiday decorating.

The family’s favorite time is Christmas morning. The holiday socks that hang from the fireplace are the first to be inspected for the treasures Santa brings. Then the gifts resting under the tree are exchanged and opened as everyone takes a turn to assure that every moment is enjoyable. Christmas morning culminates with a luscious brunch in the beautifully decorated dining room featuring a stunning tablescape that includes Jane’s drink set, a gift from a favorite aunt.

Dominating the adjoining living room is a massive Christmas tree decorated with vintage ornaments – some collected for years, and others received as gifts. The fireplace mantle continues the tree’s theme showcasing vintage ornaments nestled in fresh greens. Even amidst the profusion of holiday decorations, the owners’ art, collected in their travels around the world, provides a distinctive global feel.

A second tree and second fireplace adorn the family room, where the presence of fresh greens and vintage ornaments on the mantle continue the home’s holiday decorative theme. The feel of this room, though, sets it apart from the others. Since the family spends so much time here the tree decoration is more whimsical and reflects the holiday spirit of the owners’ children. With growing boys – two teens and a three-year-old –, the kitchen is the heart of Christmas for the family. The boys cannot resist Christmas cookies, and this updated kitchen offers the perfect setting for everyone to help with mixing, baking and cookie decorating.

Steps away the butler’s pantry is filled with a Dickens Christmas village complete with carolers, classic Victorian houses, chestnut vendors and more – all suggestive of the source of many traditions celebrated today. A few steps away the garden’s fairy lights cast a truly magical glow on the season for this family and for all who visit their delightful home.

This was supposed to be a housewalk and here you are at a Museum! What gives? Well, this is a special year! It’s the 50th Anniversary of the Historical Society of Oak Park River Forest. It’s also the 20th Anniversary of the OPRF Infant Welfare Society Housewalk and – in the very same week – the former Cicero Fire House #2, which now houses the Oak Park River Forest Museum, is 120 years old! How’s that for history coming together!

To visit this carefully conceived museum is to take a deep dive into local history. At the heart of the first floor is a collection of remarkable antique Christmas ornaments and other decorations from the collection of Jerry Ehernberger, founder of the international collectors’ group: “Golden Glow of Christmas Past.” The exquisite collectibles reveal how the holiday season has been celebrated through the years and fill the museum with color and light that inspires the spirit of this season. In fact, Jerry calls this exhibit “Ghosts of Christmas Past.”

The Museum’s exhibits and artifacts help tell the story of its two villages. For example, a new exhibit, Open House: The Legacy of Fair Housing, spotlights the process that led Oak Park to become a diverse community. And then there are the Christmas trees! There’s the German feather tree from the 1880s, the pink tree from the 1960’s, the snow tree with antique glass icicles and the Christmas tree decorated with stars representing famous Oak Park River Forest residents. And don’t miss the 1930’s Christmas village, the boxed light sets from 1895 to 1950, and many other themed Christmas items.

Amid the seasonal splendor, the museum building, itself, designed by architect W. J. Van Keuren, may well be the most engaging exhibit. The building was a firehouse until 1916, then was used for many other Village departments. The restoration brought it back to the firehouse on its opening day. Two original firepole holes were uncovered, re-trimmed and covered with Plexiglass. The original floorboards were restored – it’s worth asking how this was done! And there’s much more to the restoration story!

As you stroll through the Museum today, please plan to return for a more extensive visit because there is so much more to see. And remember, this ghost of Christmas Past is a friendly one that welcomes all visitors Wednesday through Saturday 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

“AN ANTIQUE CHRISTMAS”

Holiday Housewalk | Home 3
Hugh & Caroline Smith
7855 Greenfield St., River Forest

Hugh and Caroline Smith mention casually that they have “just a love for collecting antiques.” The simple statement is mild preparation for this gracious home that amazes from a visitor’s first footstep.

The family’s appreciation for beautiful, timeless design is evident from the entrance where two professionally decorated urns and a pair of beveled gas lanterns proclaim the season. The home’s original sconces still serve the entryway, and just a step up into the foyer the original chandelier lights the way to rooms filled with unique treasures. Among these: the 1790 Chippendale “coffee table”… the original George Hepplewhite china cabinet… the 1830s buffet table with hidden button on its underside to summon the butler… the 1820 ladies card table built during Jane Austen’s era”…or the 1901 original roll top desk made by the famous American Wooten Desk Company.

Yet despite the many antiques that fill this lovely home, what truly defines it are the warmth and good spirit of the family, which includes the Smith’s seven-year-old daughter. In this exquisite setting brimming with fun and warmth, family gatherings celebrate being together with loved ones. During the holiday season every room boasts a beautifully decorated tree surrounded by music of the season which may just come from the living room’s 1920 Steinway, punctuated hourly by chiming of the 1773 Chester clock running with its original chimes.

The Smiths have lived in River Forest since 2012. Their Renaissance/Tudor style home was built in 1928 by the head of Follett Publishing Company, whose initials are encrypted above the veranda window. The addition built in 2000, produced the breakfast room with ample views of the gracious back yard. The kitchen was remodeled in 2005, but always with an eye to keeping new elements consistent with the home’s passion for antiques. Even there, the lanterns from New Orleans and the copper sink provide antique touches at work meeting contemporary requirements.

The Smith’s passion for antiques is joined with their passion for “good charitable causes.” No surprise then that they are opening their amazing home, filled with equally amazing traces of history, to help support the future of our communities by helping raise funds for needed medical, dental and behavioral health of children. Can there be a better holiday spirit than that!
Gigi & Steve Hoke
1037 Forest, River Forest

Holiday decorations in the home of Gigi & Steve Hoke begin with three Virginia White Pines just north of the house. The pinecone harvest produces a bounty that helps shape wreaths, centerpieces and other seasonal decorations. The intimate connection of the home’s design and décor to its natural setting is not accidental. When Edward M. Probst, one of the nation’s foremost commercial architects of his time designed his home, he added decorative details to the horizontal, low-hipped roof building that draw on images from nature. Example: the 60 surviving original windows bear Probst-designed images of Prairie plants and flowers of renowned artisans, Giannini & Hilgart.

The Hokes, purchasing the home in 2007, raised their five children in this house. They appreciate it’s history and have worked to make it a lovely and comfortable setting for the high-energy requirements of a growing family. For example, when they remodeled the kitchen portion of the Prairie Style, Frank Lloyd Wright-influenced addition built by a previous owner, they respected the home’s character without compromising modern features the family required.

At the holidays the focus is on family, memories and fun. The living room Christmas tree holds Gigi’s collection of Waterford ornaments and recalls one received from her dear mother. The room also houses Gigi’s father’s 1959 Wurlitzer jukebox, and she recalls growing up listening to her dad sing along with Frank Sinatra, Bobby Darin and Tony Bennett, and dancing to the music of Tommy Dorsey.

The dining room is a family Christmas favorite as it comes alive with a Christmas tree featuring birds and a nature motif. In this warm and beautiful setting, the family gathers around the table by Craftsman designer Charles Limbert. The dining room furniture is part of the Hoke’s Arts & Crafts collection begun in 1998.

The Hoke children – ages 8 to 28 -- though, enjoy the fun of decorations devoted to pop culture references from their childhoods. The family room becomes a colorful and energetic “Atomic Christmas” in a nod to its 50s Modern design.

On the foundation of the Edward Probst design, the Hoke family has helped the home evolve into a welcoming and comfortable setting where family and guests enjoy the beauty of traditional design with the comfort and simplicity of modern-day life.
When terrific things happen, terrific people are behind it.

Holiday Housewalk | Home 5
Stephanie & David Schrodt
706 Lathrop Avenue, River Forest

Stephanie and David Schrodt’s home, located in the center of River Forest, is a familiar one to village residents. Original owners, John and Harriet Barrett and their family first moved into their new home in 1892. Now, Schrodt family treasures and photos, including many of the two Schrodt boys, cover ledges and table tops, while David’s love of books and Stephanie’s love of music fill the home’s formal front rooms. The Schrodt’s inviting passions, which blanket this historically significant home, are especially evident during the holiday season.

The Schrodt’s collection of extraordinary musical instruments dominates the holiday décor and becomes the source of beautiful music heard throughout the home when friends stop over for a jam session. Stephanie’s grandmother owned the bow-wrapped 1915 mandolin that rests on the living room mantle. The magnificent 1914 U harp Gibson guitar is tuned and ready to strum. Opposite the U harp is a vintage oud, and on the front table is a 1940s Italian accordion that Garth Hudson of the Band once played at Fitzgerald’s.

The music room houses two pianos, the 1967 upright on which Stephanie learned to play and a working 1920s Chickering player piano. The room also includes a 1965 Kay double bass, Stephanie’s mandolin, Dave’s banjo, a 1940s clarinet, and two guitars – a 1966 Gibson Hummingbird, and a 1968 Gibson B-25. The instruments share the music room with a miniature Christmas village collected by Stephanie’s mom. The living room displays the Schrodt’s extensive nutcracker collection, and a Christmas tree heavily laden with childhood mementos, homemade art, family vacation souvenirs, and gifts from family and friends.

Extended family from near and far will join together this year for Christmas dinner in the dining room, which, like the rest of the home, exudes a singular welcoming warmth. The dinner table legs are cedar trunks from the Northern Michigan region the Schrodts hold dear. The pastoral mural and conspicuous woodwork are original, while the art glass and Italian glass grape sconces were added in 1917 as was the family room. The original Victorian eclectic style remains visible throughout, including the four unique fireplaces with their distinctive tiles.

This remarkable home, always filled with the energy and merriment of the Schrodt family, is especially lovely and attractive this holiday season.

Our community is wide, embracing a diversity of people and organizations. Contributions come in many ways – important and obvious ones like fundraising and event organization, but also talents such as painting, facility planning, design, publicity, marketing outreach, photography, and legal expertise. You have something we can use. Everyone has skills that can make an impact on our mission of delivering Heartfelt Healthcare for underserved children.

Join. Help us to make a difference in the lives of children – Join Today! Our members build lasting friendships and connection, and in the sharing of ideas, members inspire each other - all while achieving our mission.

Donate. Need for funding is a function of the economics of operating a not-for-profit health clinic. There will always be a gap between what it costs to provide health care services to our low-income patients and what the IWS Children’s Clinic receives for providing those services.

Volunteer. We are always in need of volunteers to help with fundraising and event organization, but also volunteering of time and talents.

We would love to have you be a part of IWS!

Delivering Care in our Clinic and in Chicago’s Communities
At the IWS Children’s Clinic, it’s our mission to deliver quality health care inside our clinic and out in Chicago’s communities. Our two unique outreach programs–the Portable Dentistry Program and Nutrition/Oral Health Presentations–help children and families understand why healthy practices and behaviors are important.

Portable Dentistry Program
Throughout the academic year, the Clinic sends our dentist, dental hygienist, and dental assistant to more than 30 Chicago neighborhood schools to give children quality dental services that include fluoride, cleaning, and dental sealants. Students needing urgent care are referred to the Clinic for restorative care, a unique aspect of our program that few other mobile dental services offer - a seamless flow from diagnosis to treatment.

Nutrition/Oral Health Presentations
We recognize that health education contributes to healthy children. Our Nutrition and Oral Health presentations teach children and parents about healthy eating and healthy living practices. The Clinic’s age-specific presentations focus on different aspects of nutrition and how it affects on our bodies and teeth.

For more information and to schedule a program, please contact Victoria Novotny, Health Education Outreach Coordinator, at vnovotny@childrensclienciws.org or 708.848.0528 ext. 230
Thank You!

Thanks to you and everyone at the Infant Welfare Society, children in need can receive Heartfelt Healthcare, including pediatric, dental and behavioral health services.

The IWS Children’s Clinic is a critical safety net for vulnerable children and families living in Chicago’s west side and the near west suburbs. Our patients have limited means and challenging home circumstances that can make it very difficult to get basic health needs met.

Families shouldn’t have to choose between putting food on the table or taking their child to the doctor to see about that nagging cough or that aching tooth. Our warm, welcoming clinic in Oak Park is a true medical home for area children who have few options for care.

The Holiday Housewalk & Market is one of many ways the Infant Welfare Society supports the IWS Children’s Clinic. If you are inspired to give or get involved, we welcome you to visit us at www.oprfiws.org or stop by at 320 Lake Street, Oak Park.
